This unique patented technology breakthrough delivers an unprecedented fast response of 2 Gs of acceleration! The development of this compact electric motion actuator required four years of diligent effort by a talented group of engineers, programmers and university researcher. The results of their effort are truly astonishing and encompass a number of technological breakthroughs in electronics, motor design & control, system telemetry and computing which are the basis of several patents (issued and pending).

THE GAME

The name of the game is speed... Pure and simple. as a Pilot in the Ballistics races, you unblinkingly propel your Speeder bike through magnetic tubes that serve as the racetrack. You are given a full 360 degree range of movement as you spiral along the magnetic track, avoiding obstacles & other racers that could slow you down, while at the same time manoeuvring towards various power-ups. Power-ups include Super Boosters which allow you to accelerate at twice your normal capacity and ice which allows you to super-cool your high-octane engine .
